++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Another sunny day for all and feeling very warm.

Today:
After a clear start, it will be another fine and dry day with plenty of sunshine. Into the afternoon, some patchy fair-weather cloud will develop, bringing a risk of the odd sharp shower. Feeling very warm, hot in places. Maximum temperature 30 deg C (86 deg F).

Tonight:
Skies remain clear for most overnight, allowing for a risk of some mist or fog for prone locations. A warm night, especially in the south. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Monday:
A cloudy start for northern areas, with this breaking up through the morning. Plenty of sunshine and fair-weather cloud for the afternoon, but possibly the odd sharp shower. Feeling warm. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Warm, and very warm weather will continue through this period, with plenty of sunshine. Becoming more unsettled, however, with a risk of heavy, possibly thundery showers developing each afternoon.
